ISSN
2231-6752

AN ANALYTICAL STUDY ON FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT PRACTICES IN LARGE CORPORATION

SETHU ASHWIN K[1]
Student,
Department of Management,
Annai College Arts and Science kovilacheri ,India.

Dr. K. SENTHILKUMAR[2]
Associate Professor,
Department of Management,
Annai College of Arts and science kovilacheri ,India.

K. VIMALANATHAN[3]
Assistant Professor,
Department of Management,
Annai College of Arts and science kovilacheri ,India.

H. AYESHA TASNEEM[4]
Assistant Professor,
Department of Management,
Annai College of Arts and science kovilacheri ,India.

ABSTRACT

Financial risk management is an important function in large corporations as it helps in identifying, analyzing, and controlling financial uncertainties that may affect business performance. Large corporations operate in complex financial environments where they are exposed to various risks such as market risk, credit risk, liquidity risk, and operational risk. Effective financial risk management practices help organizations minimize potential losses and maintain financial stability. This study analyzes the financial risk management practices followed by large corporations and evaluates their effectiveness in handling financial risks. The study mainly relies on secondary data collected from annual reports, financial statements, and published financial research. Analytical tools such as ratio analysis and trend analysis are used to interpret the data. The findings indicate that corporations adopting systematic risk management frameworks are better able to manage financial uncertainties and achieve long-term sustainability.